FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RCG, Æge Energy unveil RCG Nordic to provide renewable energy advisory services to Nordic Region

Oslo, Norway – Monday, 16th November – Building on the success of their close working relationship, The Renewables Consulting Group Ltd (RCG) and Æge Energy AS (Æge Energy) will now go to market as RCG Nordic, a world-class renewable energy advisory for the Nordic region.

RCG and Æge Energy had signed a memorandum of understanding establishing the business alliance in July. The two firms have now inked a joint venture agreement.

Headquartered in Oslo, Norway, RCG Nordic provides integrated market intelligence, management consulting, and technical advisory services for the renewable energy sectors in Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Finland and Iceland – but with global scope and reach. Dan Pearson, RCG’s Chief Strategy Officer will chair RCG Nordic and Æge Energy’s Tor Inge Vevatne will serve as the joint venture’s General Manager.

The joint venture will focus its business development and operations on both onshore and offshore renewable energy sources. To support maritime and offshore energy clients, the firm will have a strong presence in Bergen.

RCG Nordic represents the combined capabilities of Æge Energy’s local presence and RCG’s renewable energy sector expertise and strong global industry relationships to bring tremendous value to clients within the region.

Dan Pearson, Chairman of RCG Nordic said,

“RCG Nordic will be a leader in renewable energy advisory in the region and presents significant opportunities to provide clients with an enhanced value proposition. The combined attributes of RCG and Æge Energy answer the growing demands of clients in the region to support complex renewable energy assignments.”

Tor Inge Vevatne, General Manager, RCG Nordic added,

“We look forward to growing the combined business, with a commitment to serving clients in the region and exceeding their expectations to deliver material results. The team has already secured substantial new engagements. Our mission is to be the number one renewables advisory firm in the Nordics.”
