FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RCG appoints David Banks to expand onshore wind transaction advisory services

Glasgow, Scotland - 14th January 2021 - The Renewables Consulting Group (RCG), a sector specialist advisory firm, has announced the appointment of David Banks to boost the firm's technical due diligence and lender's technical advisory services offerings for onshore wind.

As the global development of onshore wind farms continues, so too has the demand for technical due diligence and lender's technical advisory services. In response, the appointment of Banks brings a wealth of experience for the benefit of our clients.

RCG's independent technical advisors identify risk in projects through market-leading due diligence, to help clients make sound investment decisions. This applies to for both onshore and offshore wind assignments, with no geographical restriction.

With a deep background in onshore technical due diligence, Banks has taken leadership roles in more than 40 international assignments, including vendor, acquisition and pre-financial close projects for both single site and large complex portfolios.

Before RCG, Banks oversaw the day-to-day management and delivery of several land-based construction monitoring projects. These assignments afforded Banks a specialist's knowledge in wind farm operation, technology and construction.

Commenting on the appointment, Andrew Cole, RCG's Managing Director - Europe, Middle East & Africa said:

"We are delighted that David has joined our team. From carrying out turbine inspections and attending sites during construction, David is keenly aware of the wide-ranging issues which arise during all stages of a project. His vast technical advisory experience with developers, sponsors, and lenders on the development, construction and operation of onshore wind farms will serve our clients well." - Andrew Cole, Managing Director

The Glasgow office is leading the acceleration of the firm's due diligence platform and technical services in order to realise its overall goal of providing a top-tier market intelligence, management consulting, and technical advisory service to the renewable sector and delivering long-term value for clients.
